Sonoma High Wins

The basket ball game between the Boys' Team of the Sonoma High School and the Petaluma High School team played in Union Hall last Saturday evening proved to be one of the most exciting and interesting games ever played here. Both sides played ball right from the start and kept it up to the finish. The local team had the game well in hand throughout and won the game by a score of 22 to 21.

The Petaluma boys know the game well and our boys are naturally very proud of their work, especially since the visiting team defeated them in a match game last year. The Sonoma boys have not been defeated this year and are determined to keep a clean record of victories for the balance of 1908.

Eggs is Eggs

Let us sing the praise of the Great American Hen, who during the past year, may well have cackled with pride over the production of nearly one billion three hundred million dozen of eggs! Do you realize what that means? Well, listen:

If, instead of remaining quietly at home, she had chosen to demonstrate her powers to the universe at large, the Hen might have laid those eggs, each two inches long, end to end in a continuous chain reaching 238,818 miles up to the moon, back again, and then more than half way around the world for good measure—a total of 492,424 miles of eggs! Furthermore, if those eggs had been made into one omelet half an inch thick, that omelet would easily have covered Manhattan Island an area of twenty-two square miles

An old Mohammedan legend tells that King Solomon used to travel through the air with all his armies on a wonderful flying carpet, protected from the rays of the sun by the wings of a host of birds. Now, according to the poultry census, there are in the United States about two hundred and eighty millions of chickens, guinea fowls, turkeys, geese and ducks of the poultry voting age, which is three months or over. If required to furnish a moving canopy like that of King Solomon, the barnyard fowls of this country, allowing only a foot of spread to each, could easily shadow a space of ten square miles.—Arthur Guiterman in October Woman's Home Companion.

Funeral of Mrs. MacQuiddy

The funeral of the late Mrs. Paul B. MacQuiddy took place here on Saturday last. The funeral procession started from the El Verano depot after the arrival of the morning train from the south and wended its solemn course to Mountain Cemetery where the interment took place. Rev. W. C. Day of the First Congregational church, Sonoma, was the officiating minister. Many friends and acquaintances gathered to pay their last sad token of respect to one whom they had so highly esteemed in life.

The spirit of a noble, good wife and mother has taken its flight to that better land where no sorrows or troubles ever exist. A devoted husband and three small children are left to mourn the loss of their dearest and best friend. The sincerest sympathy of all goes out to the bereaved ones in their hour of sadness.

HURRAH! HURRAH!

For Shellville and Embarcadero! More ducks than ever. Tony Happe's place has been crowded and every hunter shot the limit. The fishing is great, the smallest bass caught weighed 10 pounds. Tony's place is located on the Sonoma Creek where the fresh water runs into the salt. Duck dinners every Sunday. Every person visiting the Shellville and Embarcadero Resort, Tony Happe, proprietor, will be sure of a hearty welcome. Turkey raffling and bowling contest starts November 14.

Woods May Sue Railroad

Some months ago A. S. Woods of Glen Ellen met with an accident while en route home. He was with his sister in a rig and about to cross the Southern Pacific railroad tracks on upper Fourth street of that city when a freight train came along, and, in endeavoring to keep his horse from going on the track in front of the train, he cramped the buggy and his leg was caught between the bed of the rig and the wheel. The limb was badly injured at the time and the neighbors did what they could to relieve him until he could get home. He now wants the company to pay him $150 for the injuries received. He also hopes to be able to compel the company to place a flagman or warning bell at the crossing.

This season's styles are decidedly new in shape and unsurpassed as to style and coloring. G. H. Hotz

Skim Milk for Laying Hens

The Department of Agriculture has received a report from the West Virginia Experiment Station of a test made to determine the value of skim milk as against water for wetting a feed mash.

In the first test, which covered 122 days, 22 hens fed skim milk laid 1,244 eggs, as compared with 996 eggs laid by 22 hens fed mash water.

In the first period of the second test 60 hens fed skim milk ration laid 862 eggs in 37 days as compared 632 eggs laid by a similar lot fed no skim milk. In the second period the rations were reversed. The chickens fed skim milk laid 1,220 eggs in 56 days, as compared with 978 in the case of the lot fed no skim milk. In both experiments more eggs were produced when skim milk was substituted for water for moistening the mash. Under the conditions prevailing in these experiments and with eggs selling for 20 or 25 cents per dozen the skim milk used for moistening the mash had a feeding value of from one and one-half to two cents per quart. In these trials 802 quarts of skim milk were fed, resulting in an increase in the egg production of 702.

Found in Napa River

The remains of an unknown man were found floating in the Napa river near Napa on Friday, so bound about with ropes that the authorities are investigating to see if it is a case of murder. The ropes are wound around the waist and tied securely in the back, the arms being free. Attached to them at the back is a large milk can which was filled with rocks and dirt to keep the body at the bottom of the river. The remains appear to be those of a German, about 50 years old. It is believed that the body has been in the water for a week or ten days.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank most sincerely our friends who have sympathized with and helped us in our sorrow.

Colds and Croup in Children

"My little girl is subject to colds," says Mrs. Wm. H. Serig, No. 41 Fifth St., Wheeling, W. Va. "Last winter she had a severe spell and a terrible cough, but I cured her with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without the aid of a doctor, and my little boy has been prevented many times from having the croup by the timely use of this syruy. This remedy is for sale by L. S. Simmons.

To get the best egg you must feed your fowl on grain, and to cook it in the most digestable way you must not boil the water. Heat the water to 180 degrees and leave the egg in it for ten minutes. You will then digest every morsel. But if you boil it for three minutes no less than one-twelfth of it will fail to be digested. Thus if you eat two eggs boiled for three minutes every day you waste five dozen in a year.

OUR FIRST THANKSGIVING

SONOMA, CAL., NOV. 19th, 1908.

About as far south of Boston as Sonoma is north of San Francisco, is the city of Plymouth, Mass., and like Sonoma, it is a city of great historic interest. Situated on a hill of some elevation it affords an extended view of the shore and a wide expanse of ocean, including Duxbury Bay, with its hill and monument to Captain Miles Standish; Plymouth Bay and Harbor inclosed by two strips of land; one reaching out its protecting arm from the east; the other from the north.

The Old Colony railroad brings thousands of visitors to Plymouth every year. They flock here as to some shrine made sacred by holy associations. And well they may for here was nurtured and fostered that true spirit of religious liberty for which we have every reason to be devoutly thankful. Well on the shore at the present time stands the historic Plymouth Rock on which Mary Clinton with her child in her arms was the first to set foot when the Pilgrims first disembarked, January 31st, 1620. It is covered by a canopy of carved granite securely guarded by iron gratings to protect it from the pilgrims of the present day who would carry it away in bits as souvenirs.

As you make your way up the hill you will notice a little sign on a house here and there, it will inform you that such and such a man whose name is familiar in history lived there; and here another.

By easy ascent you arrive at Pilgrim Hall, a building of considerable size devoted to the preservation of relics of the early Colonial times. All manner of household belongings, chairs; china dishes; pewter plates, platters and teapots; wooden plates carved from solid blocks; arms of various kinds, swords, knives, flint-lock guns; pictures; bead ornaments; books and writings pertaining to transfers of land; laws, rules and regulations for the conduct of the Colony. But by no means are all the relics of the past contained in this museum. Thirty years ago almost every house in town had a few pieces of ancient furniture, and many of the houses of towns between Plymouth and Boston were entirely so furnished. Just around the bend of the hill, in a little vale, stands the colossal statue of Liberty with its accompanying emblematical figures, and its carved marble panels depicting scenes in the early history of the Pilgrims; and its inscription as a "National Monument to the Forefathers. Erected by a grateful people in remembrance of their labors, sacrifices and sufferings for the cause of civil and religious liberty."

On the apex of the hill hill above the town, is the old burying ground, its most imposing monument is inscribed with the names, of a captain and his crew who were lost at sea in a great storm. Most interesting are the old slate headstones covered with lichen, their carvings and inscriptions almost obliterated by the scorching heat of summer and the pinching cold of winter, they lean in all directions broken and crumbling under the merciless hand of time.

It was here that in the first three months of the Pilgrims dwelling in their new home that fifty or nearly one-half of their number were secretly buried, for fear the Indians would know how few they were and would treacherously attack them. The first winter was a very sad and trying time for the poor Pilgrims, their hearts sad with the loss of friends, and hunger gnawing at their vitals. With plenty of hard labor they yet "found the Lord to be with them in all their ways."

In the next year their historian says:

"All summer there was no want, then they had what might be called in Scriptural phrase the feast of ingathering. Winslow in a letter to a friend tells how they kept it: 'Our governor sent four men on fowling, so that we might after a special manner, rejoice together after we had gathered the fruits of our labors. They in four days killed as much fowl as, with a little help besides, served the company almost a week. At which time many Indians came among us, and among the rest Massasoit with some ninety men, whom for three days we entertained and feasted. The Indian guests went out and killed five deer, which they brought to the plantation and bestowed on our governor and upon our captain and others.' It is not altogether fanciful to call that three days feast 'the first Thanksgiving,' the New England autumnal feast, now kept with gladness in the homes and with worship in the churches all the way from Plymouth to the Golden Gate began spontaneously when the Pilgrim remnant had harvested their crop of Indian corn."—[From "The Genesis of New England Churches" by Leonard Bacon.

Never again were the Pilgrims called upon to endure such hardship as that they passed through in that first winter.

Four hundred and eighty-eight years have passed away and time has only served to prove that the principals for which they contended. Civic and religious freedom appeal to all right thinking men, and has caused them to be perpetuated to the present day. Let us cherish the blessings for which they strove so earnestly, and to which we have become heirs, and while we join in general thanksgiving once a year, may we ever pray and give thanks for this blessed land of privilege we fondly call our own.

O God, beneath thy guiding hand
Our exiled fathers crossed the seas;
And when they trod the wintry strand
With prayer and song they worship thee.

Thou heard'st well pleased, the song, the prayer.
Thy blessing came: and still its power
Shall onward through all ages bear
The memory of that blessed hour.

Laws, freedom, truth and faith in God
Came with those exiles o'er the waves:
And where their pilgrim feet have trod,
The God they trusted guard their graves.

And here thy name, O God of love,
Their children's children shall adore,
Till those eternal hills remove.
And spring adorns the earth no more.

—L. BACON.

Other notable days of thanksgiving have been recorded—"After a session of almost six months, devoted to formulating the Constitution, Congress adjourned on the 29th of September, 1789, A few days before the adjournment a resolution was adopted, requesting the President (Geo. Washington) of the United States to recommend a day of public thanksgiving and prayer to be observed by the people of the nation in acknowledgment of the many signal favors of the Almighty in permitting them to establish in peace a free government."

"At the close of the second war with England, 1812—1814, peace was declared followed by the appointment of a day of national thanksgiving to the Almighty for the blessed event. That day was observed throughout the Union."

Since 1817 the festival has been observed in the state of New York annually, and since 1863 the Presidents have always issued proclamations appointing the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving day.
—SOPHIA CALDERWOOD.

In the case of Smith vs Matthews in which the legality of the salary of Constables and Justices of the Peace, as fixed by the last legislature, was in question, the Supreme Court has decided that the law is constitutional and all the township officers in the state are happy in consequence,

Lost His Right Arm

John Frederick Poulson, the eighteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Poulson, has sustained the awful loss of his good right arm. The accident happened last Sunday afternoon at the marshes below town. Young Poulson and two sons of John Vincent, the El Verano butcher, were out hunting ducks in a boat. Upon landing, Poulson drew his gun from the boat, muzzle towards him, and in the same manner the trigger must have become caught and the weapon was discharged. The full charge of shot passed through the right arm between the elbow and the shoulder tearing a frightful hole through the muscles and shattering the bone.

The boys hurried down to the draw bridge across Sonoma Creek at Wingo and there secured the horse and buggy belonging to Mr. MacIntosh and drove with all speed to this city for a doctor. The injured youth displayed the utmost courage and grit and calmly talked of the accident while waiting for the doctor. Drs. Thomson and Keys examined and dressed the wound and caused the patient to be removed to Green's Sanitarium on Broadway, After a thorough examination and consultation, they concluded that the only proper thing to do to save the boy's life was to amputate the arm. This was done Sunday evening. While quite weak from the loss of blood Johnnie kept his nerve with him and stood the ordeal of the operation remarkably well, in fact better than many men might have done. Everyone sympathizes with the unfortunate boy in his irreparable loss and also with his parents who are heartbroken over the awful accident.

No serious complications are looked for and it will in all probability be only a matter of time when the young man will be up and around again. He will however be unable to learn and follow the trade of blacksmith.

The Missing Man

No news of the whereabouts of Fred Wolf, an account of whose mysterious disappearance was published in last week's Expositor, has been received as yet. His friends and relatives are keeping up the search but so far without avail. He was a member of one of the Oakland Aeries of F. O. E., so he stated to a brother eagle in this city and it is probable that that lodge will institute a search for the missing brother.

Buena Vista Castle Sold

The California Industrial College Co. (Advent) has purchased the elegant 3000 acre ranch known as The Castle property, formerly a portion of the Kate Johnson estate. The deal has been under consideration for some time and the trustee have finally decided to make the deal. It will only be a matter of a few months now when the college professors and students will be here and the factories established on the property.

Race Track Gambling

There now seems little doubt but that the next legislature will pass a law against race track gambling. A canvass of the gold over and newly elected members of the next legislature which will convene in Sacramento Jan. 1909, has been made and it is confidently stated that a good safe majority are for the side of decency and morality and against Emeryville and other similar robberies where it is skillfully arranged that fools and their money, (and off times other people's money) soon part. A bitter fight is going to be made however. It is a case of how much back bone our legislators have and how much temptation they are able to resist. Fat jobs and shining double eagles look good to some law-makers, so history tells us.

Fined $20

Henry Cailleaud of Buena Vista was fined $20 in a police court in San Francisco one day last week for disturbing the peace. He called "thief" to Mr. Carpy of the French-American Bank, an institution with which Cailleaud had some misunderstanding.

THE SUN RENOVATES AN OSTERMOOR MATTRESS

The Ostermoor is built (not stuffed) of elastic, fibrous Ostermoor sheets—germ-proof and vermin-proof. We know there is no mattress on earth "just-as-good" as the Ostermoor, and we are exclusive agents for your protection against worthless substitutes. Come to us for the genuine Ostermoor—a masterpiece of comfort. Order one.

WHICH?

Nothing but an occasional sun-bath is needed to keep an Ostermoor Mattress thoroughly renovated. It can't possibly get dirty inside. And if the tick gets soiled—soap and water and a brush cleans it. Why sleep on a mattress filled with dead animal hair? The very fact that it needs picking to pieces to clean it of dirt (and the germs stick!) should be enough to sicken one against it, for

CLEANING HAIR IS A DIRTY JOB.

WHEREAS, The Sonoma Valley Woman's Club, recognizing the splendid courage and devotion with which Mr. Heney has been battling strenously for the discovery and punishment of the evil forces working in San Francisco; be it therefore

RESOLVED, That the Sonoma Valley Woman' Club hereby express its gratitude to Mr. Heney for his untiring labors of the past, and its thankfulness that an overruling Providence deflected the aim of the assassin, thus assuring the hope of many future years of life and labor to this noble friend of humanity. Changed His Plea

Harry Leonard, the man who recently shot at Foreman Finnikum of the O'Donnell ranch at Glen Ellen, changed his plea Tuesday morning before Judge Emmet Seawell. Monday he declared he was not guilty of the offense charged, and on reflection believed he had better change the plea.

On the plea of guilty Judge Seawell sentenced the man to pay a fine of $350 or spend 175 days in jail Leonard will probably have to choos the latter alternative.

Leonard emptied several shots from a Winchester at Finnikum, and it is miraculous that he did not send his victim to the morgue. he was only a few feet from his victim when the shots were fired.

Winning New Laurels

Will L. Livernash, the noted musical composer, is winning more fame in the musical world by his new compositions which are attracting the attention throughout the civilized world. His latest creation "Bumble" is greatly sought after and is all the rage in the East. A London firm has offered Mr. Livernash a large sum for its exclusive sale and publication in the Old World

Like Luther Burbank, the Wizard of Horticulture, Will Livernash, the Wizard of Music, has helped to make California and Imperial Sonoma County famous and our people are naturally very proud of him and glory in the great distinction his talented work has won for him.

Thanksgiving in Old Sonoma

Let it be recorded that Thanksgiving Day, 1908, was an ideal one in the historic old Valley of the Moon. The weather was perfect, the business houses were mostly closed throughout the day, everybody took a rest and enjoyed the usual feast. In the evening there was a union Thanksgiving Service in the Congregational church, Rev. W. C. Day delivering an able and appropriate sermon. A select choir furnished a number of excellent musical numbers.

Glen Ellen Case

Justice Atchinson was in Glen Ellen Saturday where the day was spent in hearing testimony in the preliminary examination of Ettiore Bianchini, charged with having shot Natali Pucci from ambush with intent to commit murder. Dist. Attorney C. F. Lea was present and examined a large number of witnesses but no starting facts were developed. The case was taken under advisement by the court.

Death of A. Stornetta

Antonio Stornetta, for the past 15 years a resident of Sonoma Valley, died at his home near town Saturday night. The deceased was 66 years of age and a native of Italy. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the undertaking parlors of Lafferty & Smith, at Fifth and A streets, in Santa Rosa, thence to St. Rose church. The interment was in Calvary cemetery.

Permission Granted

Superior Judge Emmet Seawell on Monday granted the petition of the First Congregational Church, a religious corporation, of this city to sell a certain lot, 96 feet front on Broadway, for $450. This sum it is intended to apply towards the payment of a new parsonage on the adjoining lot.

Don't You Feel Well? Ache All Over?

Feverish? Feel as though your blood was hot? Cold feet? Backache? Those warning signals which indicate that "a bad cold" or a fever is coming on? Don't get discouraged, but go home. On the way, stop in any drug store and get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When you get home, take a hot bath or a hot foot bath, go to bed, cover up warm—take a dose of the "Golden Medical Discovery," in the morning another dose, and you will feel better. You will not have to continue many doses before you are well. If you still persist in the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery you will find improvement in your general constitution, appetite and blood—your liver will become active and throw off the poisons from the system.

Get as near to Nature's way as you can. There's a reason. Vegetable foods are usually good for the health. The human economy digests and assimilates them best. In disease, a remedy made up of Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Mandrake root and Bloodroot, such as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, is positive yet safe, is assimilated in the stomach and taken up by the blood, therefore it is the most potent means which can be employed for the regaining of lost health.

Microbes snatch at us from every corner. They mean to kill or eat us if they can. They are formed by millions on everything we eat, drink and wear. The air is alive with them. Medical science has proven in the past few years that nearly every disease is a germ disease. Such disease germs enter into the blood in two ways, either through the lungs or stomach. If the blood is pure and rich, the liver and stomach in healthy, active condition, the germs of disease cannot find a resting place there to multiply. Diseases of the lungs, bronchitis and consumption, grip and pneumonia, are very apt to spread through a factory where there is much fine dust in the air. The lungs become irritated and the germs find a fertile field for growth. Extreme weakness, feelings of nervous exhaustion, coughs and colds are the warning signals which should be heeded. One should put the system in the very best possible condition right away. Rid your body of the poisons that are apt to accumulate and your system is ready to ward off the attack of the germs of disease. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood—by increasing the red blood corpuscles. There is no alcohol in this great tonic to shrivel up the red blood corpuscles. An alterative extract, made only of native medicinal roots, it goes about its work in nature's way. Only good can come from its use, as it invigorates and tones the liver into proper action, and feeds the worn-out nerves, stomach and heart on pure blood.

"I am a firm believer in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Joseph Napoleon Herbert, Chairman Board of Relief, of 233 St. Paul Street, Montreal, Quebec. "Find that it has been of practical value to a number of men in my employ. They are especially exposed to inclement weather, and often the colds contracted run into pneumonia, stomach trouble, or kidney and liver disease. However, since we have known of the value of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' there is much less sickness, as this medicine seems to keep the blood in a healthy, active condition, and to ward off colds and all other diseases. It is a very fine tonic for a run-down system I am pleased to acknowledge its worth."

BAD HEADACHES generally arise from bad stomachs. Foul breath, bitter taste, coated tongue, sour eructations or belching of gas, are common symptoms though not all present in every case. To cure, take small doses, only one or two each day, of old Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by him over 40 years ago. One or two a laxative, three or four cathartic.

BREVITIES

Confirmation was had of the reported sale of the immense holdings of Miller & Lux in California and Oregon. Twenty million dollars is the price and one million has been paid down. This sale has a feature of great interest to San Francisco, as the deal involves also the sale of a practical monopoly of the butcher business of that city, which has been supplied almost entirely from the Miller & Lux stock ranges in Kern, Kings, and Tulare counties. This business, it is said will pass into the hands of the Cudahy Packing company.

It is reported that owing to gross irregularities were discovered by Bank Commissioners Sherer and Watson during their examination into the affairs of the Fuso Ginko, a Japanese bank of Vacaville. The commissioners found the bank had only $301 in cash and $708 due from other banks and bankers, only $100 that was good. The institution owes to its depositors more than $5000 and about $4000 to bank and bankers. The bank was ordered closed.

Burglars looted the postoffice at Alviso last Friday night and secured $276.00 in stamps and $93 00 in coin.

Eat all the good food you like. Quit dieting. You don't have to diet to cure dyspepsia. In fact you can not cure dyspepsia or indigestion that way, but rather you must add strength to the weak stomach by taking something that will digest the food which the stomach can not digest. Kodol is the only thing known today that will do this, for Kodol is made of natural digestive juices found in a healthy stomach, and it digests all food completely. Kodol is pleasant to take, and is guaranteed to give relief in any case of stomach. Sold by all druggists.

Wise Talks by the Office Boy.

A banana peel on the side walk is a nuisance and a man usually tumbles to the fact. I often think it must be the banana peel on a fellow's brain that caused him to slip. It looks sometimes as if experience teaches some people to go and do the same fool thing over again. I have seen men pay $2.50 and $3.00 for their $2.00 hats, season after season, and perhaps with in a block of our store. The price mark $3.00 on a hat doesn't mean anything. I know of a firm who bought a line of hats that were made to retail at $2.00. They marked them $3.00 and sold them at $2.50, and no doubt they are selling them to hundreds of men who think they are getting a $3.00 hat when in reality they are only getting a $2.00 hat. The same rule applies to the ladies. I heard ladies tell the milliner clerk that our hats are $2.00 and some $4 00 cheaper than she could get the same hat elsewhere Why pay more when we sell you $2.00 hats for $2 00 and $5.00 hats for $5 00. This is straight talk and true talk. Come in and see for your self.

GIANTS OF THE PAST

PREVIOUS AGES SUPPLY US WITH ENORMOUS FOSSIL BONES.

Lizards Three Times the Size of the Largest Elephant and a Turtle Whose Shell Looked Like a Hut. The Remarkable Plated Lizard.

The belief in a race of giants was once almost universal. Even today large skeletons when found are sometimes reported as being those of giant human beings. This was especially true of the period abut the tenth and eleventh centuries, and in the latter a most amazing discovery was reported, which threw the scientific world of the time into great excitement. It was said that the body of Pallas, the son of Evander, had been discovered beneath the tomb of the Emperor Henry III. The bones were enormous and proved to have belonged to a huge fossil elephant. As late as the fifteenth century a war of words was waged over a find of large bones, one party claiming that they belonged to the giant Teutobochus. In 1857 a giant was discovered in Switzerland. The council of Lucerne requested a learned scientific man, Professor Felix Plater of Basel, to report upon it, and he not only announced the bones as part of a human giant, but made a complete restoration, showing the man twenty feet high, which the proud city adopted as an ancestor in the arms of the commonwealth. Unfortunately for the theory and much to the discomfiture of the people who had raised to a high pinnacle this mighty ancestor, it was found to be the remains of an elephant.

Nearly all the mastodon finds were attributed to giants, but there is no evidence that a human giant ever existed over eight feet in height, and it is extremely doubtful if this height was ever attained.

Giants other than human are very common in all branches of the animal kingdom—giants in every sense when compared to their pygmy representatives of today. Some years ago some laborers in the Sewalik hills of India were engaged upon a government work when they came upon the remains of a turtle that proved beyond question that these animals had their giants in the days of old. The shell which the men exposed might have been used as a shelter for several men, and at first, before its bony nature was observed, it was thought by the natives to be a hut of some kind. Fortunately the bones were uninjured, and they were taken out and removed to the British museum, where a complete restoration of the animal may be seen. The length of the turtle was ten feet, its horizontal circumference twenty-five feet and its girth fifteen feet, but it was estimated by scientists that this was not an adult and that when fully grown this huge creature would display a dome-like back eight or nine feet high, giving a total length of twenty feet.

One of the common animals in equatorial South America and in Central America is the lizard iguana, which attains a length of four or five feet and is considered rather large, but it was a pygmy when compared to an ancestor that once wandered over England and various portions of the world. A number of years ago some workingmen were excavating and blasting in a quarry near Maidstone, England, when some bones were uncovered that caused profound astonishment on the part of the finders. The skeleton was perfect, and as it was lifted out, bone by bone, their amazement increased, and the news was spread all over the country, attracting large numbers of people. When the bones were placed in their proper position they were found to be the skeleton of a gigantic lizard that when alive must have been three times as bulky as the largest living elephant and stood upon its hind legs like a kangaroo, tearing down branches from the highest trees. Such an animal was a slow mover and sluggish and must have fallen an easy prey to the human hunters, if they existed.

The marine giants were even more bizarre and remarkable than the land forms. If we can imagine the little iguana lengthened out to thirty feet, its back spines changed to broad finlike objects, we form some idea of the appearance of one of the small dinosaurs, Stegosaurus ungulatus, one of the most uncanny and remarkable creatures ever found. It is called the plated lizard, and the best skeleton was found on the eastern flank of the Rocky mountains. Some of the plates with which this armored lizard were protected were two or three feet in diameter and the spines over two feet in length. From the fact that the hind limbs were the largest it is evident that this strange creature could lift itself up and sit like a kangaroo, resting upon its powerful tail, which, with its enormous spines, must have been a terrible weapon.

A giant from America had a skull that measured eight feet in length. Almost over the eyes were two large horns, a third placed over the nose. The great length of the skull was given by a huge crest that was protected by a ridge of long plates. The mouth of the tricaratops was protected by a horny beak. In life it must have presented a formidable appearance, with a body clumsy and low like that of a hippopotamus, a long tail like an alligator's, its head calling to mind the rhinoceros. This monster was twenty-five feet in length and must have been one of the strangest animals of its time.—London Spectator.
